

Instructor: ..... Date: .....

Learner: ..... Regional Branch: .....

Program: ..... Center: .....

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

Pioneers in sport.

Learning Outcome

Describe hypothetical situations in written and spoken interactions according to work and social contexts.

Ask your partner:

- What protective equipment is needed in your favorite sport?
- Which famous athlete has changed sports the most?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about fame and work.
- I can talk about social or urban change.
- I can talk about what has been happening or what has been done.

Let's Explore!

Jacques Plante*'s strange fashion choice.

* "Jacques Plante" played for the Montreal Canadiens of the National Hockey League.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Hockey masks have been worn since the 1950s. It was the legendary goalkeeper Jacques Plante who first entered a game wearing facial protection. On November 1, 1959, after having been struck by a hard shot, Plante retired to the dressing room. After the doctor had patched him up with stitches, the courageous Plante returned to the ice wearing a crude mask. At the time, Jacques Plante's unique style of dress was considered eccentric by reporters and pundits. Over the years, however, he has come to be seen as a pioneer. The effects of Plante's trailblazing decision are still being felt. In professional American football, full padding has been used for years, and new equipment is constantly being designed. In the minor leagues of hockey, full face masks are being worn on a trial basis, and in professional football, goalkeepers like Petr Cech are wearing small, padded helmets. Even rugby stars, who pride themselves on being the toughest of professional athletes, have begun to wear head protection. Headgear has been improved upon by cricket batsmen, who wear not only a helmet but a face guard.

It's no surprise that player safety has been a growing concern since Plante's day. In an era when multimillion dollar contracts are being handed out, both sports agents and team owners are becoming more and more concerned with protecting their investments.

Let's Practice!

The winds of change*.

* "The winds of change" is a song by The Scorpions.

Instructions: Match the sentences from Column A to the sentences from column B to complete each sentence. Read the sentences aloud. Check your pronunciation with your instructor.

COLUMN A

1. It was the legendary goalkeeper Jacques Plante
2. At the time, Jacques Plante's unique style of dress
3. The effects of Plante's trailblazing decision
4. Even rugby stars have
5. Over the years he has come

COLUMN B

- a. was considered eccentric.
- b. are still being felt.
- c. begun to wear head protection.
- d. to be seen as a pioneer.
- e. who first entered a game wearing facial protection.

Let's Practice!

What changes have been made?

Instructions: Type in the missing words. Read the sentences aloud. Check your pronunciation with your instructor.

Word Bank

seen as a pioneer / sports agents / reporters and pundits / legendary goalkeeper / trailblazing decision

1. It was the Jacques Plante who first entered a game wearing facial protection.
2. Plante's unique style of dress was considered eccentric by.
3. Over the years, however, he has come to be.
4. The effects of Plante's are still being felt.
5. Both and team owners are becoming more and more concerned.

Extension Activity

Design a miniature book of world records for your favorite sport.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Choose a sport or competition.
- Choose at least five moments which were important in your sport's history.
- In five panels, paste or draw an image of the moment and write a brief description.
- Practice reading your sentences out loud.
- Present your mini book of moments to a partner.

Self-Assessment

Yes

No

I create a list of important historical moments in a sport or competition.

☐ ☐

I caption each moment with descriptive sentences.

☐ ☐

I share the information with a partner.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- goalkeeper (noun): the player who stands in front of the goal to stop the other team from scoring e.g. It was goalkeeper Jacques Plante who first entered a game wearing facial protection.
- reporter (noun): a person who discovers and writes about the news for a media outlet (i.e. newspaper, television, etc.)
e.g. Jacques Plante's unique style of dress was considered eccentric by reporters.
- sports agent (noun): a person who represents an athlete in contract negotiations
e.g. Both sports agents and team owners are becoming more and more concerned with protecting their investments.
- pundit (noun): a knowledgeable person who gives an opinion on a particular subject e.g. Pundits questioned the decision to wear a mask.
- pioneer (noun): someone who is one of the first people to do something e.g. Over the years he has come to be seen as a pioneer.
- trailblazing (adjective): being the first person to do something or go somewhere e.g. The effects of Plante's trailblazing decision are still being felt.
- legendary (adjective): very famous and admired
e.g. He was a legendary goalkeeper for the Montreal Canadiens.

Learning Points

The Passive: The Present Continuous and Present Perfect Tenses

You use the Present Continuous to talk about an action that is happening at the time of speaking. The action or event is in progress.

People are constantly designing new equipment.

You use the Present Perfect to talk about a finished action or event with present consequences. There is a connection between what happened in the past and the present.

Players have worn hockey masks since the 1950s.

You often choose the passive form when you want to talk about an action but are not so interested in saying who or what does/did it. Passives without agents (the doers) are common in academic writing and biographies.

Look at the chart below for the structure of the passive voice.

| Name               | Structure                           | Example                                                                           |
|--------------------|-------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Present Continuous | am/are/is + being + past participle | The effects of Plante's trailblazing decision are still being felt. |
| Present Perfect    | have/has + been + past participle   | Hockey masks have been worn since the 1950s.                        |

Examples:

- Headgear has been improved upon by cricket batsmen, who wear not only a helmet but a face guard.
- In professional American football, full padding has been used for years, and new equipment is constantly being designed.
- Hockey masks have been worn since the 1950s.
- In an era when multimillion dollar contracts are being handed out, both sports agents and team owners are becoming more and more concerned with protecting their investments.

